Great-Grandma had no Checking Account

But she had a favorite saying that wrapped up the whole idea.

"Let your head save your heels!" she liked to repeat. Now, isn't that just what a checking account does? Saves many a trip all over town paying bills in cash.

Drop in at the bank and let us tell you a lot of other good reasons for opening a checking account—reasons that even Great-Grandma never thought of!

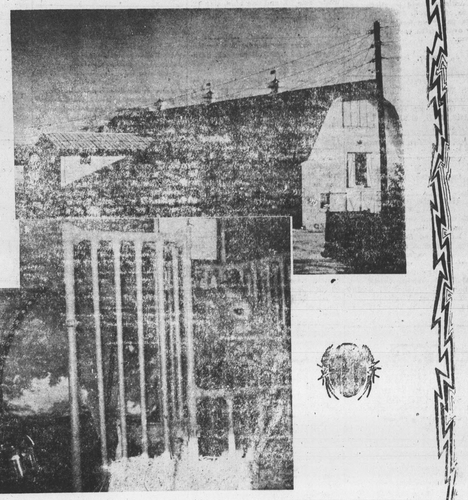
ELECTRICITY

and the ELAMS of POWHATAN COUNTY

ADEQUATE WIRING and efficient use of electricity helps to set a world record on the farm of C. N. Liam and Son. A proper distribution center at each building supplies the proper voltage to every outlet, including water system, milk cooling system, vacuum system for milkers, hay drying fans, wagon unloader, heat lamps for calves, farm shop with welder, power tools and other electrical equipment related to their farm operation.



ELECTRICITY is the key to the success of this Farm operation. More than 80 cows are milked in the two barns. Four of the cows hold the highest records for Guernseys in the entire world. For example, the Cow "Emory St. Patrick Gail" (above) holds the highest record in the world for milk and fat for Junior 4-year olds with two milkings per day for a 10-month period. "Gail also holds the highest record for 3-year olds. She is also the first Guernsey cow under five years old to make 20,000 lbs. of milk in one year. It is also interesting to note that all previous records made by other cows was accomplished by hand milking; therefore "Gail" is the first cow milked electrically or by hand to set such a record.

Mr. C. N. Elam and Son, C. N. Elam, Jr. have used ELECTRICITY to its fullest. Mr. ELAM (Sr.) is a past President of the Virginia Guernsey Association and at present is a Director of the Producers Exchange Cooperative in Richmond. His son, "Nick", is a Deacon and Sunday School teacher at the May Memorial Baptist Church, a Director of the Southern States Cooperative Retail Store in Richmond, and a Director in the Virginia Farm Bureau Federation. They have every reason to be proud of their 1,000-acre "Father and Son" DAIRY operation.
